MY ENGINE NEVER OVERHEATS.

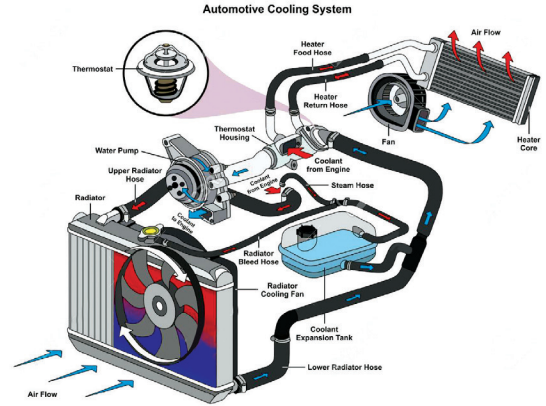

WHY SHOULD I GET A COOLING SYSTEM SERVICE?

That's a really good question for drivers to ask, because if you don't have the full answer you may end up in trouble. It would seem that if your engine is running at the proper temperature that everything must be OK. But the fact is that engine overheating is the most common cause of mechanical failure for drivers. So how do you get from everything is just fine to suddenly overheating and potential engine damage?

Truth is, it is not a sudden process, but it is an invisible one. Your engine coolant circulates through your engine where it absorbs heat and then flows through the radiator where it is cooled - and then back to the engine again. As long as the coolant is able to flow freely - and there are no leaks - then the coolant can do its job. This is the point where drivers have to look deeper.

The cooling system is a environment: very hot, with a number of reactive materials like various types of metal, plastics and rubber. Over time the coolant becomes corrosive. Small pieces of metal and other materials flake off and circulate in the coolant. As these bits start to clog up the small passages in the radiator, they restrict the coolant flow, leading to overheating. Corrosive coolant can actually eat away at the system and cause leaks as well.

Now new coolant is full of anti-corrosion additives. These additives neutralize the reactions that lead to corrosion. The additives are eventually used up, leaving the cooling system unprotected.

This is why your service advisor and the team at Auto Select may give a recommendation for when your cooling system should be serviced. Our knowledgeable pros at Auto Select can also test your coolant for freeze point and PH to see if it needs to be replaced (if you've added straight water to the system these numbers may be off). You need to get fresh coolant in there to continue to protect against corrosion.

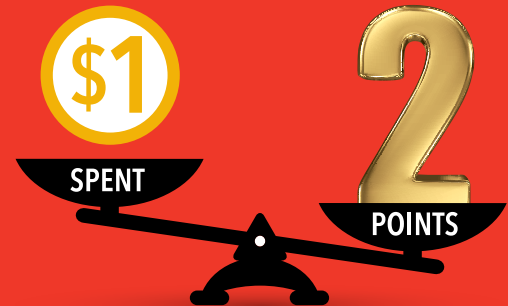

So, drivers who've gone beyond the recommended service interval should take care of this maintenance service to prevent unnecessary repairs down the road.

HUMOR

How is losing money in a payphone like the Super Bowl?

If you don't get the quarter back, you hit the receiver!

Two men are sitting in a bar. "Hey, when were you born?" asked the first man. "The 3rd of February 1961," replied the second man. "Interesting, that's when I was born too! Where were you born?" asked the first man. "In Seattle," explained the second man. "That's weird. I was born in Seattle as well." exclaimed the first man. "Where did you go to school? I went to the George Washington High School." asked the first man. "That's incredible, I went to Washington High also." replied the second man. A waitress walks by. The first man grabs her arm and says, "Hey, listen! This guy and I were born on the same day, in the same city and we even went to the same High School! Isn't that crazy?" The waitress nods and goes back behind the counter. "What's up?" asks the bartender. "Oh, not much. The Simon twins are drunk again ..."

Teacher: "Billy, do you know Lincoln's Gettysburg Address?"
Student: "No, Miss Johnson. I thought he lived in Washington!"

3 Cheese Enchiladas

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
- 3 Cups salsa, divided
- 4 Green onions, chopped, divided
- 2 ½ Cups shredded cheddar cheese, divided
- 2 ½ Cups shredded monterey jack cheese, divided
- 12 (8 Inch) flour tortillas

DIRECTIONS:

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees.
2. Mix cream cheese with 2 cups salsa and 2 chopped green onions in a bowl until thoroughly combined; lightly stir 2 cups shredded cheddar and 2 cups monterey jack cheese into cream cheese. Spoon ½ cup of cream cheese filling in a line down the center of each tortilla and roll tortilla around the filling. Repeat with remaining tortillas and cheese filling. Place rolled tortillas into a 9x13 inch baking dish.
3. Spread top of enchiladas with remaining 1 cup salsa. Lightly mix remaining ½ cup cheddar cheese and ½ cup monterey jack cheese in a bowl and spread over salsa. Sprinkle with remaining green onions. Cover dish with aluminum foil.
4. Bake in preheated oven until cheese is melted and bubbly, about 20 minutes.

Here's what our clients are saying...

Great service of my vehicle. Friendly and competent employees. I will use this place again and tell my friends and family to as well. Christy B - Appleton East

These guys are excellent at their job and are my go-to for oil changes. Toby A - Appleton Express

I like their attention to detail and their professionalism. They don't try to sell you on unneeded repairs. Colleen P - Appleton North

Great service, reasonable prices, friendly employees, and not condescending to female customers! No one's trying to take advantage of you here. Very accommodating. Brian N - Neenah

I have been using Auto Select for several years now. They have always been extremely thorough and have excellent customer service. I always know that they do a very good quality work at a very reasonable price, and I appreciate their honesty. Jenny B - Green Bay East

Highly recommend Auto Select, every time I have called, they were very helpful right away with any car issue I have had. Also, as a woman with not a lot of knowledge about cars in general walking into an auto body shop, they have always made me feel incredibly welcome and comfortable. The employees always greet you with a smile and walk you through everything you need to know. Hannah G - Green Bay West

Helped my family in a small car emergency with the flex pipe on the muffler that broke off so we stopped into Auto Select to ask for help. Got us in 30 minutes like they said and gave us a good solution and fixed the problem in exactly the time frame they gave us. I will come here again. Orman W - Shawano

Always professional, great communication and reliable. Michael M - Stevens Point East

This is the only place in the Stevens Point area I will ever bring a vehicle. I brought my car in because 2 of my tires were leaking, 6 months after Auto Select replaced them. Once the team at Auto Select knew that, they serviced all 4 tires for free. I have been to other places in the past and been talked down to and bombarded with upwelling attempts, but the team at Auto Select has never done that to me. I have always been treated with respect and they have been fair and honest with their services. Margaret R - Stevens Point Express

Doug and his team at Auto Select always provide excellent service on our vehicles! Jim K - Stevens Point South

Butch was excellent to work with - friendly and professional. I was able to use a loaner vehicle while they worked on my car which was very convenient. I will definitely return with future car needs. Carolann H - Weston
